APPEAL OF REID PARIZO

Docket #93 - T - 12

Department of Corrections

June 7, 1995

The New Hampshire Personnel Appeal Board (Bennett, Johnson and Rule) met Wednesday, June 7, 1995, to review the appeal of Reid Parizo, a former employee of the Department of Corrections. Mr. Parizo was scheduled to appear before the Board on October 12, 1993, for a mandatory pre-hearing conference. On October 8, 1993, the Board received a note from Mr. Parizo requesting postponement. Mr. Parizo said that his attorney was unavailable on that date, and he would be out of town because of a family emergency. There was no indication that a copy of the note had been provided to the Department of Corrections, as required by Per-A 206.01 of the Rules of the Personnel Appeals Board. Over the Department's objection, the Board continued the prehearing conference and placed Mr. Parizo's case at the end of the list of pending termination appeals.

By letter dated April 4, 1995, the Board's staff attempted to reach Mr. Parizo telephone, and by mail at his last known address. Neither attempt was successful. There was no listing for a Reid Parizo in the Concord Area phone book. Mail addressed to Mr. Parizo at his last known address have been returned by the Post Office with the notation, "MOVED LEFT NO ADDRESS, UNABLE TO FORWARD, RETURN TO SENDER."

Insofar as the appellant failed to appear for his originally scheduled prehearing conference, and failed to provide the Board with an accurate, current address at which he could be reached, the Board, on its own motion, voted to dismiss the appeal.
