

Why is having Short Term Disability insurance important?

Financial experts have long recommended Disability insurance as part of a sound financial plan should you be unable to work due to illness or injury. Your ability to earn an income is indeed one of your most valuable assets! Take a look at some of the key reasons why it pays to have Short Term Disability insurance.

- Just over 1 in 4 of today's 20 year olds will become disabled before reaching age 67.¹
- 1 in 8 workers will be disabled for 5 years or more during their working careers.²

Having Short Term Disability insurance can help you cover your essential living expenses and help protect your savings, since it replaces a portion of your income during the initial weeks of a disability.

If you are unable to work and earn an income due to a disability, you would still most likely want to be able to meet your ongoing financial responsibilities.

If you have a spouse/domestic partner and/or children most likely they rely on you to help keep the household running. But with 44% of employees surveyed very concerned about having enough money to pay bills during a sudden income loss,³ you need to make sure your family is financially prepared to handle essential living expenses such as the following if you are unable to work:

- Mortgage
- Car payments
- Food
- Child care/tuition

If you are single, and don't prepare ahead to cover your expenses, you may need to use your savings, sell your property, or borrow money from friends or family to meet your ongoing financial obligations while you recover.

Arthritis, back pain, depression, accidents, pregnancy and serious illnesses are the leading causes of disability in the U.S.⁴

One of your most valuable assets is your ability to earn an income. Guard it with Short Term Disability insurance.
