APPEAL OF RICHARD SHIPLEY New Hampshire Hospital Docket #93 - T-18

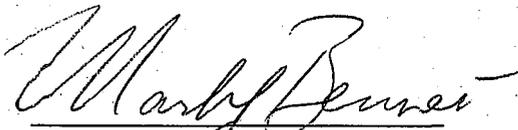

December 21, 1994

The New Hampshire Personnel Appeals Board (Bennett, Johnson and Rule) met Wednesday, October 20, 1993, to convene a prehearing conference in the appeal of Richard Shipley, a former employee of New Hampshire Hospital, who was terminated from his position of Mental Health Worker for providing false information on his application for employment. Mr. Shipley's notice of appeal, dated February 10, 1993, contained no address at which he could be reached, nor was the Board able to contact him at the phone number he provided in his notice of appeal.

Notice of the scheduled mandatory prehearing conference was then forwarded to Mr. Shipley by letter dated September 27, 1993, mailed to the address provided by New Hampshire Hospital as the appellant's last known address. It was returned to the Board by the U.S. Postal Service on September 27, 1994.

Based on Mr. Shipley failure to provide the Board with a valid address at which he could be contacted for notice of the hearing, the Board, on its own motion, voted to dismiss Mr. Shipley's appeal.
