Transmission lines will be run through new electrical conduit from the boiler room to the Simulator entry area, where the sub-panel is to be installed. Most of the conduit will run above the drop ceiling once it passes through the wall of the boiler room, approximately 150' in length.
- New 2-gang (4 receptacle) outlets are to be installed around the simulator room, most to replace existing single-gang (2 receptacle) outlets. In total, there will be approximately 12 4 receptacle outlets.
- An additional 4 2-gang (4 receptacle) outlets are to be installed above the drop ceiling where the projectors for the simulator will be located.
- All electrical terminations, including lighting fixtures, will be re-routed through the new sub-panel and existing connections to the existing service will be removed.
- The new service sub-panel will consist of a 120/208 volt 3-phase – 200 amp panel with appropriate breakers, all Square-D equipment to match the main service panel.
