- 8.2.2 give the other Party written notice specifying the Event of Default and suspending all payments or services, as applicable, to be made under this Agreement;
- 8.2.3 set off against any other obligations, if any, the non-defaulting Party may owe to the defaulting Party any damages the non-defaulting Party suffers by reason of any Event of Default; and/or
- 8.2.4 treat the Agreement as breached and pursue any of its remedies at law or in equity, or both.
- 8.3 If in the judgment of the State the Contractor's default is not substantial to require termination at that time, and the Contractor is not curing the default, and the default is capable of being cured by another resource without unduly interfering with Contractor's continued performance, the State may at its discretion provide or procure services reasonably necessary to cure the default, and Contractor shall reimburse the State for the reasonable cost of such services. Contractor must cooperate with the State and resources in any such efforts to cure the default.
- 8.4 No remedy conferred under the Agreement is intended to be exclusive of any other remedy, and each remedy is cumulative and in addition to every other remedy in the Contract. The State's election of any or more remedies shall not constitute a waiver of its right to pursue other available remedies.
- 8.5 The Contractor's and the State's monetary liability to each other shall not exceed the total Contract Value of the Effective Date. This limitation shall be subject to Section 4.2 of Exhibit A, but not include the Contractor's indemnification obligations under Section 13 of these Special Provisions and the following:
- (a) death, bodily injury or damage to real or personal property;
 - (b) misappropriation or infringement of any intellectual property including but not limited to any patent or copyright or any unauthorized use of any trade secret;
 - (c) third party losses accruing to the other Party's third party vendors, subcontractor, materials, laborers or another person, firm or corporation furnishing or supplying work, services, materials or supplies in connection with the performance of the Agreement;
 - (d) personal injury;
 - (e) disclosure of confidential information; and
 - (f) failure to meet any applicable statutes, regulations codes, or guidelines.
- 8.6 If the State terminates this Agreement when Contractor is not subject to an Event of Default, (the date of any such event being an "Early Termination Date"), Contractor may, at its sole option, terminate their Agreement, pursue all rights and remedies available to the Contractor as set forth herein, and pursue those available to the Contractor both in law and in equity. Without limiting all damages to which Contractor may be entitled to recover, the State shall, in any such case, pay Contractor the positive difference between Contract Value and Market Value, subject to Section 8.5 above (the "Early Termination Fee"). The Early Termination Fee shall be paid to Contractor within twenty (20) business days after the date on which the Contractor advises the State of the amount due. This provision shall not apply if the State's appropriation is reduced or eliminated as provided in Section 4 of these Special Provisions.
- 8.7 Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute a waiver of the sovereign immunity of the State, which immunity is hereby reserved to the State. This covenant shall survive the termination of the Agreement
